Customer Reviews

I recently purchased this gift for my middle school sons' teaching team. The reading/L.A. teaching team was incredibly impressed. They actually used some of the literature recommended in the Vietnam War section. Many times it is hard to find appropriate reading on a specific topic. This book makes an integrated curriculum/additional home teaching so much easier to achieve. As parents, we all know our children go in streaks with certain subject matter. How wonderful to have a resource to turn to if your child has a particular interest and wants to learn more than they have time for at school. I would highly recommend this to parents and educators as a valuable resource. Here's to a book which finally makes it easier to choose something other than the electronics that we find ourselves surrounded by. Monica Coleman
